WHAT IS A HERO?

Minority women who don't know Jesus...YET!

When you hear the word “hero,” who do you think of? Perhaps you think of celebrities, politicians, or even large ministry leaders, but to me the real heroes are people on the front lines in Southeast Asia.

I just returned from visiting and reconnecting with many precious brothers and sisters whom I consider to be heroes. One such hero is my friend from Ireland, who has come to Asia to support, teach, and train people in ministry. She gave up a pretty comfortable life as a worship leader in a successful church back in Ireland; leaving behind her family, friends, and home to minister in Asia.

Another one of my heroes in Southeast Asia is a pastor of 120 people in a non-government sanctioned church. He got a call from the police saying, “We know what you are doing and it needs to stop or you will go to jail!” Can you imagine that? What would you do? This hero invited the police to his church and said, “Come and see what we are doing. We are doing nothing wrong, but if you must take me, here are my hands.” Then

This pastor invited the police who were going to arrest him for preaching Christ, to church!

"If they kill us, we will just keep coming and coming" to the Muslim nations.

he held out his wrists.

Then there is the young woman who runs a business where she also trains leaders in the body of Christ to evangelize the nations of the Middle East. She was recently asked, "Aren't you afraid that you will be killed?" This hero replied, "We believe that we are supposed to evangelize the Muslim nations. We know that many of us will not return, but we believe that this is why God made so many of us. If they kill us, we will just keep coming and coming and coming..." Do you have that kind of courage? This woman is my hero!

And then there is you! You are my hero because there are those who are called to go and there are those that are called to send. Without your love, prayers, and financial support, my heroes and I could never do what we do! You are amazing and I love you so much!

love, Carol

Yes! I want to help you take the God's love to Southeast Asia!
